Our story

Slaying taxes since 1965

TaxSlayer has a strong family legacy dating back over 50 years. In 1965, Aubrey Rhodes Sr. founded Rhodes-Murphy & Co., an income tax preparation business in Augusta, Georgia. That business evolved into what is now TaxSlayer – a rapidly expanding software development company.

Although we are continuously improving and expanding our products, our driving purpose remains to find and deliver the best ways to assist others. Our exceptional, easy-to-use technology makes life simpler and less stressful for millions of Americans.

Our focus has always been serving our customers. The same entrepreneurial spirit and fearless mindset that got us started continues to enable us to take risks and change how people use technology for the better.

NEW FOR 2022

Tax relief and filing for families

Ensuring families get the accurate tax relief they qualify for was a major focus this year. With the advance payments of the Child Tax Credit being distributed, we created a webpage detailing the changes to the credit and an interactive quiz to help people determine if they're eligible. And of course, updated the program to ensure users report the amount of payments they've received prior to filing.

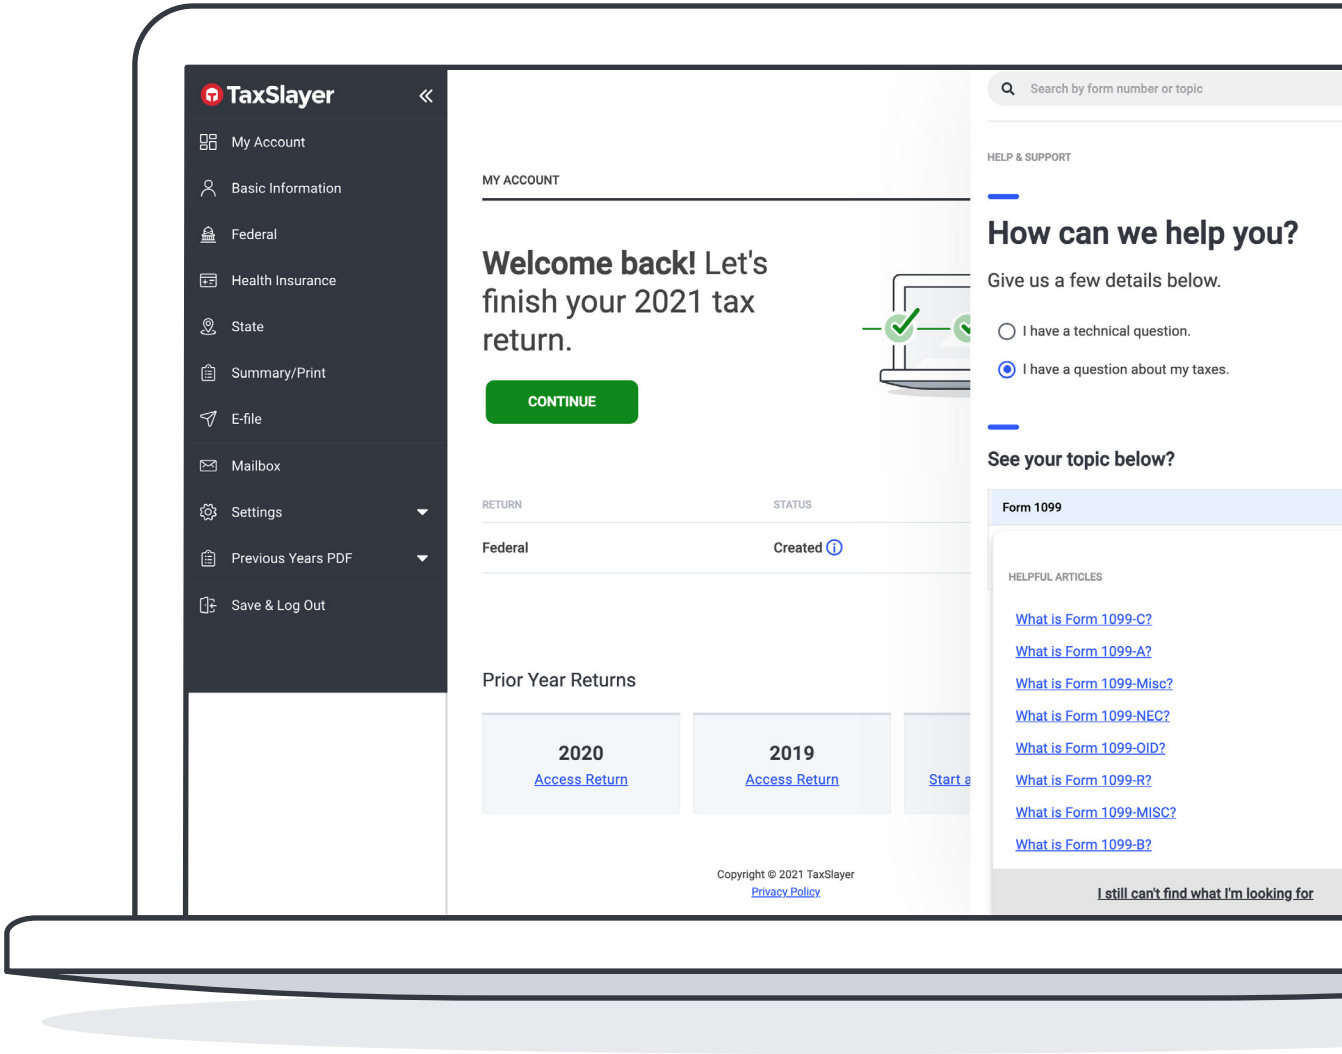

In addition, we've enhanced the Form 2441 section, making it easier to claim child and dependent care expenses. It's also worth noting that stimulus 3 comes into play on 2021 returns, and we've made it simple to report payments and reconcile any issues.

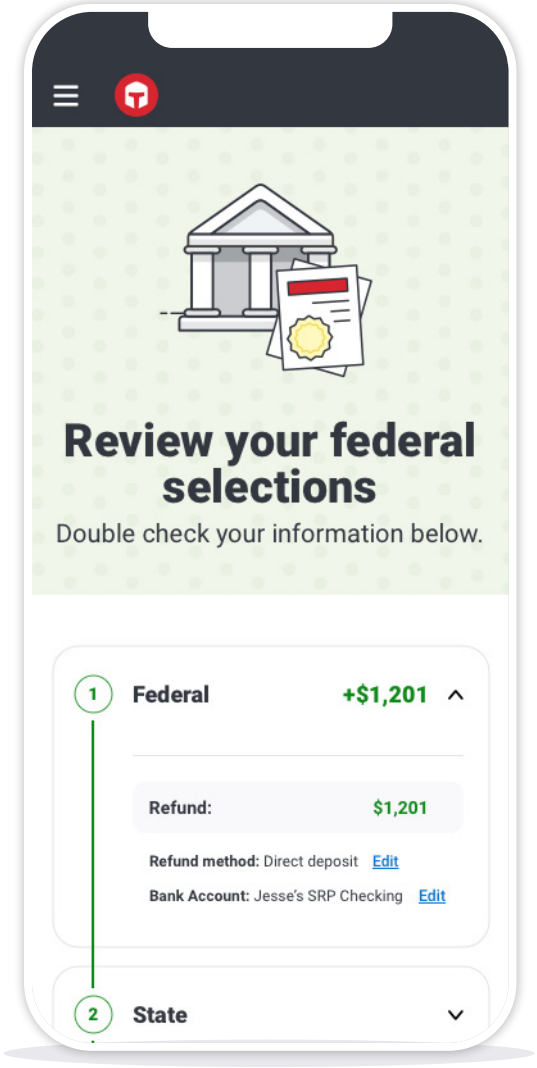

NEW FOR 2022

Added convenience and confidence

Each year, we strive to provide a dependable, fast, and easy experience – ultimately helping TaxSlayers file fearlessly without having to visit a tax office or tax professional. We've expanded our help and support feature within the program, making it easier for users to find the answer they need or the type of support they want.

Staying on top of industry and IRS updates remains a priority in addition to our own product roadmap, so we made sure to implement the option to e-file amended returns.

NEW FOR 2022

Refined navigation and efficiency

Users who sell stocks, bonds, derivatives, etc. will enjoy a new import feature for their Form 1099-B data. We're always looking for ways to speed things up, while reducing the risk of entry error.

We've also streamlined our main navigation menu and continued to fine-tune instructions and checkpoints throughout the filing process, so users are aware of what they've accomplished, what they have left to do, and any next steps once they've filed.
